Minister Ends Hunger Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Clayton Kennedy Howell, white Episcopalian rector, has ended his hunger strike begun 18 days ago in the cause of civil rights.

This was announced Tuesday by the Right Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, bishop of the Pennsylvania Episcopal Diocese.

The bishop told a news conference that the Rev. Mr. Howell, 37, had agreed to end his fast for these reasons:

—“First was the fact that Gov. William Scranton's intervention has been responsible for the apparent beginning of real progress in the situation at Chester.

—“Secondly, my desire is for him to have a further training to prepare him for further ministry in this area of the church's concern. Father Howell will be spending the next several weeks in a training project at Parishfield, about 50 miles west of Detroit.”

Judge Guarded In Hoffa Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — A government witness testified Tuesday that Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa promised him approval of a $5 million loan from a union pension fund if he would help extricate Hoffa from a sinking business venture.

The day was also enlivened by the placing of a federal guard around U.S. Dist. Judge Richard B. Austin, after an anonymous telephone caller told police someone would try to kill the judge.

Two U.S. marshals were assigned to guard the judge in his courtroom and six others stood watch over corridors leading to his chambers.

Constitutional Change Okayed

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House passed Tuesday and sent to the Senate a proposal to repeal a section of the state constitution dealing with corporate charters.

The vote was 142-46 with the dissenters claiming they did not have sufficient information to vote intelligently on the bill.

Advocates explained that the proposal, which requires approval of two legislative sessions and the voters, is designed to remove archaic language from the constitution. They said corporations are chartered under regulations approved by the legislature and that the constitutional provision is unnecessary.

Rocky Gains In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller appeared to be gaining ground in the Oregon primary Tuesday, with a final campaign drive keyed to repeated assertions that he is the only candidate willing to work at the job of seeking votes in this state.

New President In Panama

PANAMA (AP) — Government candidate Marco A. Robles scored an upset victory in Panama's presidential election on the basis of nearly complete returns announced Tuesday night.

The national electoral tribunal figures gave Robles an insurmountable 11,000 vote margin over twice-deposed ex-President Arnulfo Arias.

Airlines Boost Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced Tuesday, with gains by airlines, rails and savings-and-loans highlighting the session. Trading was fairly active.

The Dow Jones industrial average, however, remained below its peak of last Thursday as it gained 31 at 827.58.

Volume was 5.24 million shares compared with 4.51 million Monday.

Rights Bill Progress Nil, Glum Democrats Tell LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders on Tuesday told President Johnson that progress on the civil rights bill is nil. Then they went before the Senate to plead with Southern foes of the measure to permit some votes.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, painted a more optimistic picture. After the weekly luncheon of GOP senators he told newsmen he believes a compromise bill could be passed in about five more weeks.

70 Amendments

Dirksen said full accord was reached on the 70-amendment package he offered to the Senate leadership and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy last week. He said that after "a final look-see" Wednesday he will put the package before a conference of Republican senators.

Earlier in the day, Southern forces met in caucus and

CBS, ABC Refuse To Accept Emmys

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS News and the American Broadcasting Co. announced Tuesday they were withdrawing support of television's "Emmy" awards and would not accept any awards they might win.

CBS News, which made the first announcement, described the awards by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences as "unprofessional, unrealistic and unfair."

ABC's announcement charged the awards were not determined "on the merits of the programs."

A spokesman for the National Broadcasting Co., asked about that network's attitude on the awards, said NBC "proposed to maintain our active participation in the academy, to have our nominees attend the awards ceremony and—hopefully—to win our fair share of awards."

These will be presented on a special NBC program May 25.

Thomas W. Moore, president of ABC-TV, said the network had intended to delay its announcement until after the next

Case Urges Probe Of U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., demanded again Tuesday an investigation of senators' relations with Bobby Baker. The demand touched off an angry partisan dispute.

Before he finished testifying during a stormy 90-minute meeting of the Senate Rules Committee, Case said emphatically: "I will not be stopped. I will not be silenced" until the Senate "carries out this sacred duty of getting the facts."

The committee has been investigating the outside business activities of Baker, former secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority, with particular emphasis on how he acquired a fortune he estimated at more than $2 million. Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., firing back at Case, said the New Jersey senator made a false claim in claiming that the committee's Democratic majority had refused to allow him to appear and ask that the investigation be extended to include senators.

The committee is now working on its investigation report, upon which a future code of senatorial ethics may be based.

Globe-Circling Joanie Lands Crippled Plane

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Glowing with joy, Joan Merriam completed on Tuesday her trouble-plagued 27,750-mile solo flight around the world.

She was escorted the last 100 miles by two Coast Guard aircraft because of a rough-landing and overheating right engine in her 6-year-old light airplane. She had to shut the engine down briefly as she approached the California coast.

Both engines were operating when she reached Oakland International Airport at 9:12 a.m. for a welcome by about 400 persons.

Miss Merriam quickly laid claim to being the first woman to fly solo around the world, in a truer sense than the global flight completed April 17 by Jerrie Mock, Columbus, Ohio, housewife.

"You can fly around the world in many places," said Miss Merriam, adding that she did it at the earth's greatest circumference—the equator. Mrs. Mock flew 4,000 fewer miles, along a more northerly route.

Miss Merriam, who began her flight March 17, logged 23 days of flying time; was delayed 33 days en route; and made 34 stops.

About 45 per cent of her trip left her unprotected by radio aids. She made six forced landings due to bad weather.

More Rallies Planned For Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Negro leaders on Tuesday promised more demonstrations in this racial trouble spot where seven persons were injured in an outbreak of violence.

"We intend to continue demonstrations in Cambridge until every grievance of the Negro community has been satisfied," said the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee in a prepared statement.

Lawrence Cundiff, who has been working with the committee, read the statement to newsmen after a 2½-hour meeting of Negro leaders with the commander of National Guard troops in Cambridge and Maryland's deputy attorney general.

"I have no promise and there was no bargain," the guard commander, Brig. Gen. George M. Gelston, said afterward.

Gelston said the 380 troops sent into Cambridge before Monday night's violence would remain temporarily.

Rusk Says Moscow-Peking Rift Means Danger To West

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked the Western Allies to send nonmilitary aid to South Viet Nam and to isolate Cuba to head off a new world crisis. He also saw potential danger to the West in the Moscow-Peking dispute.

He urged the isolation of Cuba economically, politically, socially and even spiritually to prevent Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime from subverting other Latin-American countries.

Speaks To NATO

Rusk told the opening session Tuesday of the North Atlantic

Treaty Organization Council of Foreign Ministers that a new crisis over Cuba would affect the whole Western world. This was aimed at such NATO nations as Britain and France who trade with Cuba despite the U.S. economic embargo of the island nation.

The United States is determined to continue aerial reconnaissance of Cuba, Rusk said, pointing out this could lead to a serious confrontation as that in October of 1962, when the Soviet Union introduced missiles in Cuba.

Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler of Britain agreed with

Pen Argyl Cambodians Bomb, Strafe CD Test Vietnamese Infantrymen

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A new incident Tuesday on the Cambodian frontier complicated South Viet Nam's anti-Communist war while U. S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara reviewed the general outlook under heavy security guard in Saigon.

Reliable sources said two Cambodian jet fighters zipped across the border, bombed and strafed Vietnamese infantrymen who were hunting Communist guerrillas and then roared back to Cambodia under fire from the infantrymen.

There were no Vietnamese casualties, the informants said, and it was not determined whether either of the planes was hit.

The clash occurred near Tay Ninh, 55 miles northwest of Saigon. It was the latest in a series between this U. S.-backed nation and its neutralist neighbor stemming from Communist use of the frontier zone as a staging area for attacks on Vietnamese villages and army posts.

In Saigon, McNamara opened his fifth visit to South Viet Nam with another promise that the United States will provide "whatever is required for however long it is required" to win the war.

The first siren sounded at 7 p.m.

This was to alert the people. The second alarm was sounded at 7:03 p.m. and all traffic was halted and pedestrians were directed to take cover. The all-clear was sounded at 7:06 p.m. and traffic and pedestrians resumed normal activity.

"The test, which is one of two held annually in the borough, served two purposes. First, we test the alertness of the people and their response to the sirens. Secondly, we tested two new car radios and four walkie-talkies," Bosold said.

Clarence Cannon

Oldest Member Of House Dies At 85

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clarence Cannon, 85, oldest member of the House, chairman of its Appropriations Committee, and one of its most rugged individuals, died suddenly Tuesday.

Death came to the Missouri Democrat at Washington Hospital Sunday. He entered the hospital Sunday after an attack of what he thought was nausea but which actually was the forerunner of heart failure.

The House convened at noon and adjourned 11 minutes later out of respect to the man President Johnson described as a "parliamentarian who 'made a unique and lasting contribution to the functioning of our legislative process."

Speaker of the House John W. McCormack named a 43-member committee to attend the funeral.

The committee represents members of both parties and consists mainly of members of the Appropriations Committee and the Missouri congressional delegation.

The services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Elsberry, Mo., Baptist church of which Cannon was a lifelong member. Burial will be in Elsberry, the town in which Cannon was born April 11, 1879.

The tough little man who for 20 years held a tight grip on the federal purse strings died with ever coming face to face with the one national catastrophe he said he dreaded. He often expressed the fear that "in my lifetime, the federal government may go broke if we don't stop unnecessary spending."

Miss Blatt's Lead Trimmed To 1,801

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Genevieve Blatt's lead in the tight contest for the Democratic party's U.S. senatorial nomination fell to 1,801 votes Tuesday.

Justice Michael A. Musmanno picked up nearly 1,000 votes in Allegheny, Dauphin, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties alone.

Miss Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, had led by 2,521 with all but three precincts recorded in the unofficial count of the April 23 primary.

Now complete returns with the absentee ballots have been counted officially from 38 of the 67 counties, plus the official totals without the absentee ballot from two counties.

These figures and the unofficial count in the remaining counties, gave Miss Blatt's current margin.

Against this background was the claim of Musmanno's backers that he had picked up 1,000 votes in Philadelphia, where the official count has not been certified. Miss Blatt's supporters have challenged 500 absentee ballots in this county.

In Luzerne County Musmanno gained 146 votes when a machine at Hightstown was opened on court order after the field returns showed no votes for the State Supreme Court justice.

Eminent Domain Bill First Hurdle

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House defeated an attempt Tuesday to delay passage of a land condemnation reform bill and set Wednesday for consideration of possible amendments and debate.

A motion to send the eminent domain bill back to committee for further study and possible public hearings was defeated by a vote of 169-20.

Debate on the issue was the highlight of light working sessions by both houses.

The Senate passed and sent to the House on a vote of 27-21 a measure that would speed the process for amending the state constitution and gave preliminary approval to $20 million worth of appropriations bills passed by the House Monday.

The House gave the first of three required readings to the $1,067 billion general appropriation bill and $58 million worth of appropriations to state-aided institutions.

Both Houses will meet again Wednesday and tentatively plan to work through Friday in an effort to end the session by the last week of May or the first week of June.

Petrosky Raps Borrowing By State Highway Unit

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Minority Leader Anthony J. Petrosky disputed Tuesday the necessity for the State Highway Department to borrow money for its 1961-65 road construction program.

"As of this date, it is entirely possible the department will not come within $40 million of the construction goal established for 1963-64," the Westmoreland County Democrat declared in a statement.

With this balance, he asked, why was it necessary for the department to borrow $30 million from the State Highway and Bridge Authority as planned in its new budget?

The 1963 legislature authorized the department to finance $100 million of its work through the highway and bridge authority.

Henry Harrel, secretary of highways, said this was due to "outstanding loans and insufficient cash on hand" caused by a delay in the beginning of the construction season this year due to poor weather and heavy rain than anticipated snow removal costs.

About $40 million of the $100 million was incorporated in the current budget, in addition to the new $30 million for 1964-65 questioned by Petrosky.

The department originally estimated a surplus of $16 million at the end of the current spending period and this automatically was applied to the new budget.

In answer to Petrosky's charge, a spokesman acknowledged this surplus could go as high as $44 million by June 30 because of delays resulting from labor strikes in the Philadelphia area, in right-of-way acquisition and poor weather.

However, he said these delays could not be foreseen at the time the current budget was drawn. Furthermore, he added, the money was committed and would be spent.

His point was that the money already has been earmarked and cannot be applied to the new budget.

The exchange between Petrosky and the department came after Harrel appeared before a joint meeting of the House-Senate Appropriations Committee this morning to testify to the department's $566.3 million budget for the new fiscal year.

At that time, Harrel defended the new budget as a "sound and practical" financial blueprint for the new spending period beginning July 1.

Even before Petrosky raised the surplus issue, Harrel pledged:

"The department will not hoard its available income and will not maintain an excessively large cash balance. We will spend what we should to best support an expanded, aggressive program within our long-range resources."

Write-Ins For Nixon Hit Barry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican voters in West Virginia were giving a strong endorsement to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's bid for the GOP presidential nomination in early returns from Tuesday's state's preference primary.

But in similar voting in Nebraska Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, while leading the field, was running into stiff write-in vote competition, particularly from Richard M. Nixon.

In both cases Rockefeller and Goldwater, avowed candidates for the nomination, were the only names on the ballot. The difference was that write-in votes are counted in Nebraska, but not in West Virginia.

In returns from 50 of Nebraska's 2,148 precincts, Goldwater had 2,240 votes. Write-in from the same number of precincts showed 1,231 for former Vice President Nixon, 717 for Lodge and 70 for Rockefeller, and 45 for four others.

In West Virginia, in returns from 151 of 2,664 precincts, Rockefeller had 3,331 votes, about 70 per cent of all the GOP votes cast in Tuesday's gubernatorial primary.

There were no Democratic presidential primary tests in either state, although President Johnson was getting a solid write-in vote in Nebraska. With 97 precincts reporting he had 2,551, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy 116 and Gov. George Wallace of Alabama 87.

In Rhode Island 14 delegates were to be chosen, with the party organization expected to battle attempts by backers of Goldwater and others to increase their strength on the nominally uncommitted delegation.

Missouri Republicans elected six more GOP delegates. Two were instructed to vote for Goldwater and two more said they favor his nomination. Two were listed as uncommitted. Tuesday's action gives Goldwater 14 of the 20 Missouri delegates selected so far, and boosts his front-running total, according to an Associated Press survey, to 276. Nomination requires 655.

McNamara To Report On Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will be questioned by the House Armed Services Committee shortly about whether obsolete planes are being used in South Viet Nam.

Announcing this Tuesday, Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., said the committee will summon McNamara to testify in secret session as soon as he returns from his present inspection tour of the Southeast Asian country.

Vinson said the committee, besides asking whether obsolete equipment is being used, will want to know about the pace of the anti-Communist guerrilla war in general.

Vinson said the session with McNamara was scheduled because some members of the committee were disturbed by a newspaper dispatch saying the employment of obsolete planes in Viet Nam caused the deaths of two American pilots.

Blatt-Musmanno Court Fight Could Lose Demos A Candidate

By RICHARD L. GRAVES Associated Press Writer HARRISBURG (AP)—There is a legal possibility that the cliff-hanger contest for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination could leave the party without a candidate for that office this fall.

The possibility hinges on whether one side or the other in the bitter intra-party battle pursues victory in the courts.

State elections officials feel the chances are remote that the opposing wings of the Democratic organization would file each other up in legal knots to such an extent the party would fail to have a candidate certified for the Nov. 3 ballot.

Miss Waverling Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, presently holds wavering lead of less than 2,300 votes over her organization-backed candidate, Senator.

"We would have to leave the space blank," said Eberman. "We would have no other choice under the law."

Eberman said there is no case involving a statewide candidate where legal delays in a primary hampered a full ballot.

But in a Bradford County court election in 1957 legal challenges held up certification of Democrat James W. Callen who was the winner, for more than a year while the case went to the state Supreme Court. However, that was a case to determine a full election winner, not to determine a candidate.

A less likely prospect would be some kind of a broad recount of votes in the Democratic primary. The reason it is less likely is economic.

The person seeking the recount must post a $50 bond for every ballot box or machine opened. Most of the state's 9,261 voting districts have more than one ballot box or voting machine.

If no error is found in the recount, the bond is forfeited. The vote-counting process is slow even when there is no close contest on the election. In a close contest the process moves more slowly.

The official canvass of votes cast at the April 28 primary began May 1. In most counties counting in the Blatt-Musmanno race is still going on. On May 8 absentee ballots were opened. They will be included in the final total for each county.

If there is no challenge or recount, county results in each contest are certified to the state elections bureau. When the state has all county results in hand, it tallies the results and announces the winner on the basis of the certified returns.

Blatt's lead is less than 2,300 votes over her organization-backed candidate, Senator.

The official canvass is now going on. If both sides accept the results, the winner would be certified for the ballot this fall to run against Republican Hugh Scott.

But if one side or the other files a court challenge involving votes in even one ballot box in one voting district of one county, the certification process would be delayed.

"In any one district a challenge can hold up a complete statewide certification," said Albert E. Eberman, director of the state Elections Bureau.

That would mean Eberman's agency could not certify the candidate as the party nominee on the fall ballot.

In turn, that would mean a blank space on the ticket for a Democratic nominee for the preme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno.

Judicial Reform Bill Sponsored

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Scranton administration sent to the House Monday its plan for amending the constitution to re-vamp the state's judicial system.

The proposal's introduction was delayed until now because of the difficulty in finding a sponsor. It is generally reported to be opposed by most members of the judiciary and justices of the peace.

The sole sponsor is Rep. Austin M. Lee, R-Philadelphia, who was defeated for re-nomination for another term in the April 28 primary.

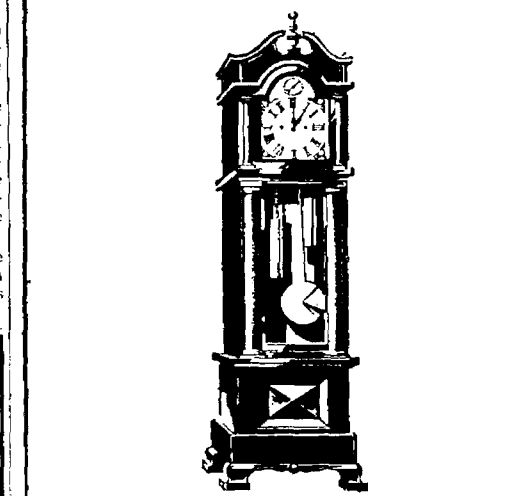

Under the amendment, which requires approval by two sessions of the legislature and the voters, justices of the peace would be eliminated and their duties taken over by community courts.

The proposal also would adopt the so-called Pennsylvania plan for selecting judges for the State Supreme and Superior courts and the Philadelphia and Allegheny county courts.

Judges in other counties could be selected by the same method if the voters chose to do so by referendum.

Weiner Calls For Rights Bill Support

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Minority Leader Charles R. Weiner, D-Philadelphia, has called for prompt action on the civil rights bill now before Congress.

"The failure by Congress to take affirmative action on the bill has caused widespread demonstrations and protests often resulting in bloodshed," Weiner declared in a resolution.

He pointed specifically to what he called "the chaotic conditions in Chester, Pa., and elsewhere in the nation that could be relieved considerably by prompt passage of the long-overdue legislation."

"The granting of equal rights and opportunities to all Americans cannot be postponed," Weiner said.

Record Series Tell You How To Avoid Heart Attack

STROUDSBURG — Whether you are 25 or 60, it's time to take care of your heart!

Your chance of being included in the fatal statistics of America's No. 1 killer can run as high as 50 per cent if you entertain only two or three of the "assassins" that lay in wait for the unwary.

The "assassins" include high blood pressure, excessive cholesterol, overeating, lack of exercise, poor heredity factors, cigarette smoking, obesity, tension and diabetes.

But the picture isn't all grim. There is plenty you can do about it.

Two well known experts, the science writer Alton Blakeslee and the heart specialist, Dr. Jeremiah Standler, have teamed up to write a best seller that tells you exactly what courses of action to take. It puts into focus a great deal of information that has appeared haphazardly or in piecemeal fashion.

Their book, "Your Heart Has Nine Lives," has been condensed into twelve short installments that will appear daily in this newspaper starting Monday. Don't miss a single one!

You can act effectively whether you are in your twenties as in your sixties. No matter what your age, there is something you can do right now towards lessening your chances for a heart seizure and the Blakeslee-Standler team tells you just what.

As Dr. Paul Dudley White, Eisenhower's heart specialist, says:

"Your Heart Has Nine Lives" should be in the hands of every young couple, particularly, and of middle aged and older folks too."

He calls the book a "masterpiece."

The range of the series can be appreciated by scanning these installment headings:

2 Problems For Rosenthal

STROUDSBURG — Daniel Rosenthal of Levittown, formerly of Pocono Lake, was back in Monroe County Court yesterday.

During the morning session he was the defendant; in the afternoon the plaintiff.

In the morning, Rosenthal won a temporary victory when a mistrial was ordered in a case charging him with fraudulently obtaining insurance in his own name for a Pocono Lake diner which was jointly owned by six people.

He then appeared as one of the plaintiffs charging assault and battery against his mother-in-law and brother and sister-in-law — formerly his partners along with his wife in the diner which burned to the ground Aug. 21, 1963.

The mistrial in the fraud case was declared by President Judge Fred W. Davis after State Trooper Stanley Komonsinsky testified Rosenthal refused to take a lie detector test.

Komonsinsky was responding to a question by James R. Marsh, Monroe County district attorney.

Not Permissible

Atty. John Pentz made the mistrial motion on the grounds testimony concerning the lie detector was not permissible evidence in Pennsylvania courts.

Judge Davis dismissed the jury and ordered the case continued to the September term of court and allowed Rosenthal to remain free on bail.

Before the abrupt ending, Komonsinsky said he went to investigate the fire and Rosenthal showed him insurance policies totaling $74,000 on the diner property. He said the policies were in Rosenthal's name trading as the Pocono Lake Diner.

John Petrie, manager of the Mt. Pocono branch of the Northeastern National Bank and Trust Co., said his bank had issued a judgment note on the diner property in the names of Louis B. and Yetta Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schwartz and Daniel and Mary Rosenthal.

Petrie said the bank received a cancellation notice of insurance on the property. He said he then received six separate policies all in the name of Rosenthal from the Block Insurance Agency of Wilkes-Barre.

Charles Eden of 1806 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, testified his insurance company cancelled the original policies on the diner on Aug. 9, 1963. The cancellation was effective 10 days later.

He said the company holding the policies gave no reason for the cancellation.

Jury Empaneled
In the afternoon a jury was empaneled but no testimony given in a case which Rosenthal and Ronni Rosenthal, his daughter-in-law, are charging assault and battery against Louis B. and Yetta Miller and Anna Schwartz.

The Millers are his brother and sister-in-law and M. Schwartz is his mother-in-law.

The two plaintiffs claim they were beaten by the defendants in a fracas at the diner May 12, 1963.

Atty. Harry Miller — court appointed attorney for the defendants — pleaded not guilty for his clients.

The trial will resume this morning at 10.

In another case yesterday the court:

— Fined Earl W. Minks of Tannersville $300 and $22 court costs after he pleaded guilty to drunken driving.

'Y' Boards To Probe '65 Budget

STROUDSBURG — Monroe County YMCA directors and board of trustees last night were challenged to find ways to balance the proposed 1965 budget at a meeting at the YMCA, Stroudsburg.

Peirce Harley, general secretary of the local YMCA, listed a proposed budget of $63,516 against actual figures of $50,154.

Harley urged the boards to probe ways to "pick up" the extra $13,350 for the 1965 operational year.

The "Y" secretary broke down the actual budget this way:

Membership, $9,119; Community Chest, $14,270; Programs, $5,000; Rental, $10,500; Gas Station, $4,800; Camps, $4,500; Guests, $700; Food Service, $500; and Miscellaneous, $765.

The actual budget is based on income from the past two years, Harley said.

Reports were given by William Moran, treasurer; Rose Schoen, women's organizations; Horace Waller and Atty. Delbert Hansen state convention; and Gordon Coy, insurance.

It was announced that there are 722 memberships. The goal for the year is 764.

A committee was established to investigate the possibility of establishing a memorial room to the late Tom Willis, a YMCA leader who headed the craftsman program.

In other business, plans were initiated to give recognition to YMCA sponsors and leaders via plaques throughout the building.

The April attendance report showed:

Saturday night dances, 1,590; groups using assembly rooms, 56, with attendance of 1,575; swimming, 1,890 participants; gymnasium, 748 persons.

Hansen, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Timber Fire In Bangor Attracts 1,000

BANGOR — Fire of undetermined origin broke out in the pile of timbers at the old demolished DL&W coal chutes on Murray St. Bangor, last night about 9:30 p.m.

Flames reached heights of 100 feet from the burning timbers. The flames also threatened the two and one-half story house and garage owned by Ray Fraunfelder. The building is used as a storage place for his trucks, old furniture and moving equipment.

Firemen of Bangor's three companies were able to bring the flames under immediate control and by wetting down the adjacent buildings were able to prevent any serious damage.

More than 1,000 spectators lined the streets and the viaduct bridge on Murray, St. First and Messenger streets to witness the roaring flames. Many individuals expressed the opinion that other industrial buildings in the area were the sites of the fire.

However, the quick action on the part of the firemen contained the damage to the piled timber, some of which measured more than 50 feet in length and two feet square.

Suit Filed Over Stalled Car Accident

STROUDSBURG — A suit was filed yesterday in the office of Frank Smith, prothonotary, claiming that a man trying to get his car started ended up with his car smashed into a parked vehicle.

The suit was brought by Thomas E. Cavanaugh Jr. of 175 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, against Harold D. VanBuskirk of 204 Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg. James C. Scanlon is Cavanaugh's attorney.

The suit claims that on February 14, 1964, at 8 p.m., the Cavanaugh car was parked in the Line Material parking lot, where he works.

It further alleges that VanBuskirk could not start his car and borrowed a car belonging to Lawrence Fuller to get a push. According to the suit, Thomas Fuller, 17, unlicensed to drive, was operating the Fuller car and VanBuskirk was in the stalled auto.

The suit claims that due to his inexperience, Fuller pushed the car into the Line Material parking lot and smashed into the parked car, causing $600 damage.

The suit asks the court for collection of the $600 damages.

BANGOR — Requiem High Mass will be celebrated Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Roman Catholic Church for Daniel D'Imperio, 53, of 1526 Evison Place, New York City, and formerly of Roseto.

He died Sunday in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, after a short illness.

Born in the Bronx, N. Y., he was a son of the late Biagio and Rose Spagnolelli D'Imperio. Mr. D'Imperio moved to Roseto when he was eight and returned to New York City at the age of 25.

While in Roseto, he and his father, operated the Roseto Laundry for more than ten years.

He was a veteran of World War II, having served with the U. S. Navy. He was a member of Martucci-Capobianco Post 750, American Legion, and the Columbus Fire Co., both in Roseto.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Mary Falcone D'Imperio, at home; two daughters, Rosann and Lucia, both at home; one sister, Mrs. Philip Capone of Roseto, and two brothers, Anthony and Joseph D'Imperio.

A sister, Mrs. Lena Falcone died before him.

Arrangements are in charge of the Schiavone Funeral Home of Bangor.

Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery in Roseto.

Retirement Incomes Higher In County

Special to the Record
NEW YORK — New figures released by the Social Security Administration, show that the larger incomes that Monroe County residents have been enjoying over the years are now producing additional dividends for them.

Chestnuthill Budget Approved

BRODHEADSVILLE — Chestnuthill Twp. School Directors last night approved a $284,961.81 school budget for the 1964-65 school year.

In adopting the budget the directors approved a new 70-mill occupation tax, retained two $5 per capita taxes, and retained the 48-mill real estate tax.

The budget shows a cash balance of $20,000 with revenue from the state as $81,772.89 and from local taxes, $163,188.92.

The expenditures are as follows: Administration $10,000; instruction, $650; fixed charges, $640; debt service, $46,512.80; outgoing transfers to Pleasant Valley Joint School Committee, $198,932.42, and a balance at the end of the year of $8,126.59.

Bangor Student Gets Scholarship

BANGOR — A Bangor student is the recipient of a one-year state senatorial scholarship.

The scholarship has been awarded to Miss Winifred Kay Utsch. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Utsch of 348 Washington Blvd., Bangor.

Miss Utsch, who will graduate from Bangor Area Joint High School in June, will enter Pennsylvania State University in September. She plans to major in science. She is a member of the high school's honor society.

Announcement of the award was made yesterday by Mrs. Louise Bethman, secretary to the late Sen. Gus P. Verona of the 18th Senatorial District.

Croasdale Nominated

DELAWARE WATER GAP — Harold B. Croasdale of Delaware Water Gap was one of six nominees offered by Gov. William Scranton as members of the board at White Haven State School and Hospital.

The names were sent yesterday to the senate for confirmation.

They are paying off in the form of better-than-average pension checks.

These checks, which are going to retired workers and their families, reflect their annual earnings during a span of years prior to retirement. Because earnings were greater, the contributions to the pension fund were also greater.

Just how the local area compares with others in this respect is brought out in the official report which contains data for every county in the nation, as of the beginning of this year.

It shows that checks to Monroe County residents are running higher, on the average, than are those going to people in most other parts of the United States.

As of January 1st, payments to local recipients were at the rate of $822 per year, as against $794 in the rest of the United States.

The aggregate amount reaching the local area was over $4,094,000 in the past year. It went to 4,980 retired workers, disabled workers and their wives, children and parents.

The amount has grown, year by year, to the point where it is now of a size to be reckoned with in the local economy.

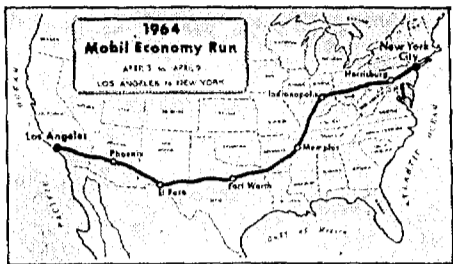

By comparison, going back three years, there were then only 4,031 recipients. They collected a total of $3,083,000.

The number of people eligible for pension payments has increased since that time because of an easing of the rules covering disability and because additional groups of workers have qualified, by virtue of a broadening of coverage.

Today, there are more than 19 million people in the United States who are receiving monthly checks through Social Security. They get over $16 billion a year.

Further expansion in the size of pensions has been proposed. The idea is to raise benefits in all categories and to pay for the increase by a hike in payroll taxes.

If approved, it will be the first general increase in six years.

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run?

Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Turbine transmission? You bet.

Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick.

Mrs. Ebricht finds that wash-day is much easier in a total electric home. And of course, there's always plenty of hot water, whenever it's needed. A flameless clothes dryer makes washday a pleasure.

The flameless electric range is one of the many work-saving appliances that make life more pleasant for the Ebricht family.

Accurate, room-by-room temperature control enables the family in an electrically heated home to have heat when and where it's wanted.

Gentle, draft-free heat helps to make the Ebricht home a comfortable and convenient center for family activities.

"ELECTRIC HEAT is economical... we can turn heat on where it is needed"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Ebricht of Reading are well-satisfied with their choice of total electric living Comfort and economy are the two most important advantages provided by flameless electric heat, as reported by the Ebrichts. Like so many other families, they feel that this modern heating method is the ideal choice in every respect.

"In early fall and late spring, we can turn on the heat in our son's room on cool nights," says Mrs. Ebricht. She also finds there is definitely less cleaning to do in an electrically heated home.

Mr. Ebricht is especially interested in the economy of flameless electric heat. He says that it was installed for less than other heating systems and that they "did not spend one cent on maintenance in more than four years." He also finds the insulation required for efficient operation of electric heat helps to keep the house cooler in warm weather!

The Ebricht home is only one of more than 2300 electrically heated homes in this area. An increasing number of families are discovering that electric heat is the ideal choice for any truly modern home. If you are planning to buy, build or remodel, you'll find it worthwhile to get the full story. # Between Us —

A typewriter is solitary enough, heaven knows, since, when it is chattering out the stories, its operator is blind and deaf to anything else going on in the office, including arson and murder.

But, vicariously, it is very sociable and I find myself chuckling over Stella Plattenburg's descriptions of the shenanigans at the Band Mother's 25th anniversary party and being sorry that Clem Wiedmeyer shaved off his beard, which I thought very becoming.

I get weary just listing all the activities the Ann Logan members are going to be involved in this summer; the card party, birthday calendar and booth at the West End Fair. I note with interest that the Stroud Community Woman's Club has changed its meeting place to the Stroud Community House which is going to make more sense but also is going to make an awful lot of mom's in their announcements for next year.

I cheer the new presidents and rejoice with the retiring ones whose duty is done. And get sort of panicked as the list of meetings for each day calendar gets longer and longer, wondering if there are going to be enough people to go around for all the programs.

Mornings at the river in May can be a very good antidote for the harried feeling that comes just from the ceaseless activity going on all around. Before the cottagers come to stay, before the boats are in the river, there is a stillness, a serenity and a deep sense of solitude that quiets all but the most personal anxiety.

The mist rises quietly from water as smooth as satin, with a faint noise quality to mark the current. When a shadow goes upstream to spawn loach, it looks as big as a whale, spans the water like the blow of a hammer, and you can watch the ripples spread all the way to the far shore and start quietly back. As therapy for hyper-tension, it can't be beat.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

This is Armed Forces Week and every day through Friday public tours are being conducted from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at Tobyhanna Army Depot. Perhaps you heard the details from Colonel Reichel during a recent Wyckoff Shopper broadcast. If not, I would like to extend you through this column, on his behalf, an invitation to visit the Depot and see for yourself how impressive it is.

A group from Wyckoff's was the very first to enjoy this year's Open House, and all who had been there previously agreed that this visit was the most enjoyable ever. We were greeted in the Administrative Building with its flag-lined lobby by the Armed Forces Week Queen and her princesses, one of whom explained to me that the flags represent the various nations from which young men come to Tobyhanna each year for training. One flag familiar to me was that of Israel. Not far away was one I failed to recognize. Rev. F. K. Emmons said it was the Arabian flag.

After coffee in the cafeteria, we were ushered into a charming, small auditorium where slides were shown informing us about the Depot's size, work, and responsibility in our national defense. A second reason for the satisfaction derived from this year's visit was that at every point we were intelligently and concisely informed as to what we were seeing by persons capable of talking to us in language we understood. Also, much of the time we rode in little cars not unlike those one finds on a Steeplechase. (You'll love 'em . . . so will the children, and the speed limit is seven miles an hour!)

"Power for Peace" is the slogan of Armed Forces Week this year, and we all came away feeling that, while at Tobyhanna there is no outward show of great might, this efficient, smooth-running operation is the backbone of the power with which our nations means to defend our freedom and mine. At Tobyhanna there are storage facilities for 100,000 tons of the equipment used in safeguarding our frontiers. In this massive plant is an inventory of 180,000 items, covering some 200 classifications, and valued at more than $300 millions, as well as marvelous IBM machines that can locate any of these items in a matter of minutes.

Tobyhanna Army Depot is manned by 24 Army officers, 300 Army personnel and over 2500 civilians. The payroll is $1,000,000 monthly, 70% of which is thought to remain right here in the Wilkes-Barre to Stroudsburg area. There is a fire department on 24 hour duty; an infirmary staffed by a dentist, three doctors, and five nurses, with equipment for emergency surgery. There is a busy airfield, as well as facilities for the unloading of 295 trucks and 51 railroad cars each month, with 2100 tons of materials being received monthly. If I am reading my notes correctly, some 245,000 line items are packed monthly for shipment to warehouses for storage or further distribution.

Dismounting here and there on our travels, we were shown the equipment in need of repair that is shipped from installations around the world. We saw how it is cleaned, renovated, and made to look like new. Much of the cleaning is done by ultrasonic waves that tingle through various solutions, including just plain soap and water. Those waves feel soothing to the fingers, so we accepted an invitation to drop our jewelry into them, and were horrified by all the dirt that began floating away. When we saw the sparkle of the cleaned jewels and metals, we all longed to unload all of our precious possessions for a quick renovation.

We visited the machine shop where sheets of metal can be molded into any form required; and the paint shop, where there is no annoying paint odor because a built-in "waterfall" sucks particles of paint from the air and cleanses it. We were told how important packing is and what a painstaking science, involving all types of engineers and artists, busy at drawing boards. After all, the equipment shipped must be protected from breakage and destruction under all sorts of strains, pressures, and climatic conditions. Once the designs are complete, the carpentry shop puts the boxes together. One machine alone makes 1600 box sides a day.

When our indoor tour ended, we were taken by Army bus to the airfield to see mobile equipment and to enjoy the Army's own cookies and coffee served from a mess tent. The air was brisk but sunny. Our hair whirled around in all directions, and we too were something of a mess. But we loved every minute of it.

Since ours was the first touring group, Clyde Burke, Tobyhanna's public relations officer, posed us for a picture. He delighted us, for he is the only man we've ever known who induced "Papa" Wyckoff to have his picture taken. Maybe "Papa" knows when he has met his match. After all, one doesn't quarrel with the United States Army . . . which proves conclusively the impact of that wonderful slogan, "Power for Peace."

Steps In Job Counseling Are Spelled Out In Detail

By Roberta Fleming Koesch

As we promised in a previous column discussing vocational guidance, we're back with more details today on (1) how to get the most from counseling and (2) what to expect from guidance. Let's take a look at item 1 first.

In every case you'll get a lot more help from counseling if you go to it thoroughly prepared.

Seven Questions
Therefore, before you even leave your house to seek guidance, ask and answer these questions.

1. What can I do or what would I like to do if I had my choice?
2. If I have worked before what is my job history to date?
3. Is it possible for me to get further job training now?
4. Will it be best for me to work part-time or full-time?
5. What's my real ambition or goal?
6. What are the main problems standing between me and that purpose?
7. What are my hobbies, talents and interests?

Better Picture

Once you know, from your own viewpoint, at least some of the answers to these questions you'll be able to give your counselor a better picture of your problems and background.

Then, along with discussing these things at your counseling session, you'll also be asked to fill out a questionnaire listing in black and white such things as your education, experience, hobbies, interests, aims, likes and dislikes. Aptitude and vocational tests may be part of the counseling. And your home and family demands, as well as the time you can work, will come up for discussion during the interview.

With this part of the session behind you, you and your counselor will talk about attitudes and habits employers want. Then your counselor will show you how to match your background, experience and aptitudes to the needs of the job world.

Help With Plans

Most counseling sessions will also give you guidance on laying out plans and programs for preparation and job hunting.

Job placement is not necessarily offered as part of vocational guidance in all cases. In many instances, the guidance will confine itself to helping you plan a course of action for preparing and getting a job. The actual job-getting will be up to you.

Fees for the service will vary. (If you would like an address from which you can get a helpful and comprehensive booklet on landing the job you want, send me your request and a self-addressed envelope with U.S. postage in care of this newspaper.)

Linda Finds A Kindred Soul Plus Recipes In Indiana Food Column

By Linda Pipher

Daily Record Home Economist Stroudsburg — A few weeks ago Mrs. Clara Sinclair, of Stroudsburg, showed me a food column clipped from the Northwest Indiana Sentinel. It was a column similar to this one, but the nice thing about it was that it featured Mrs. Sinclair's daughter, Mrs. L. R. Robertson, of East Chicago, Ill.

The recipes accompanying the column were so interesting that I asked Mrs. Sinclair if she minded if I shared them with Pecono readers, and she was sure that her daughter would be happy for you to have them, too.

Remember a few weeks ago when I gave you a recipe Billy had brought home from school? Mrs. Robertson's son brought one home years ago as part of his school work on fractions, and I'll bet it will be just as popular with children around here, too, when they find that this cake is made with soda pop. Just goes to show you that you should keep a continual check on homework!

Orange Pop Cake
½ cup shortening
2 cups sugar
3 eggs
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 10-oz. bottle carbonated orange pop

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together the flour, baking powder, and salt. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with orange pop, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Bake in three greased and floured layer cake pans or in prepared cupcake tins. Bake at 325 to 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Makes one three-layer cake or two dozen medium cupcakes.

Until recently Mrs. Robertson was a caseworker for Public Welfare but now devotes full-time to her role as homemaker and church and clubwoman. Her picture with the column showed her serving this casserole of small veal steak cubes nestled in saucy sea shell macaroni. Unfortunately, I can't show you the picture, but I do have the recipe!

Mrs. Robertson's Veal Surprise
2 pounds veal round steak, cut in pieces about an inch square
1 pound bacon, cut in small pieces
4 to 6 onions, chopped fine
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons paprika
1½ cups uncooked sea shell macaroni
2 cups sour cream
Brown veal, bacon, and onions

well in saucepan or large skillet. Add salt, paprika, macaroni and sour cream. Simmer for one to 1½ hours. If necessary, add a small amount of water while cooking or just before serving.

Those of you who like to bake will have to try this steamed bread made with equal parts of all-bran, flour, and corn meal. After bread is completely cold, it can be frozen.

Steamed Brown Bread
1 cup All-Bran
1 cup flour
1 cup corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking soda
¾ cup molasses
2 scant cups sour milk
1 cup raisins (floured)
Combine All-Bran, flour, corn meal, salt and baking soda. Stir in molasses and sour milk. Fold in raisins. Place batter in a well-greased three-pound shortening can or three one-pound coffee cans with tight fitting metal lids. Press lids on tightly. Place can in steamer. Add 1 cup water to steamer and bring water to a boil; let water boil for five minutes, then lower heat and steam bread for about three hours. Remove lids and invert the cans on a plate or cooling rack, and bread will slip out easily.

The last recipe for a cabbage, orange, and apple combination in orange gelatin makes such a tasty salad that it's liable to become a family favorite. It's nice for any time of the year.

Fruit And Cabbage Gelatin Salad
1 package orange gelatin
1½ cups boiling water
1 cup shredded cabbage
1 orange, peeled, sectioned and cut up
1 apple, cored and diced
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. When cool, add cabbage, orange and apple. Refrigerate until well set.

Modern Math Explained At PM Rotary Session

MOUNTAIN — A discussion of modern math techniques was presented at a recent Pocono Mountain Rotary Club meeting at Pocono Top Hat Restaurant, Mountainhome.

Miss Genevieve Battiste, faculty member at Pocono Mountain Joint High School, gave comparison figures in mathematics for the Rotarians, explaining the approach on the secondary level.

She said the relationship of mathematics to daily life was emphasized in school and relationship of figures to each other was taught rather than an emphasis on memorization of unrelated facts.

Lawrence Wile, principal of the jointure, presented Miss Battiste to the group.

During the business session, it was announced that Miss Margaret von Staple, Rotary Exchange Student of Milwaukee, Holland, will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rossi of Pocono Gardens, for the remainder of her stay in the United States. She is sponsored jointly by the Pocono Mountains and Mount Pocono Rotary Clubs.

"Look at my socks," moaned rookie center fielder Billy Cowan who stole 31 bases for Salt Lake City last season and was named minor league player of '63 by the people who sell one piece of gum with five picture cards. His socks were a soggy mess.

Boxing Union Requested By Ghana Paper

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The Ghanaian Times, organ of the government party, called Tuesday for the formation of an African boxing union as an aftermath to the controversial Floyd Robertson-Sugar Ramos featherweight championship fight here Saturday.

Ring officials awarded Ramos a split decision after the 15-round bout Saturday but the Ghana Boxing Authority later reversed the decision and declared Robertson the new champion. The two judges, Ed Lassman of Miami, Fla., president of the World Boxing Association, and Ramon Velazquez of Mexico favored Ramos while the British referee, Jack Hart, voted for Robertson.

The Ghanaian Times called Lassman and Velazquez "bogus judges who spearheaded the conspiracy to rob Ghana of her first world title."

The paper said an African union was needed to "represent the interests of African boxers in the world boxing councils."

In event of rain, the practice will be held Thursday at the same time.

Pen Argyl Trips Wilson Borough

WILSON BOROUGH — The Green Knights of Pen Argyl yesterday jumped over the 500 mark for the first time this season by blanking host Wilson Borough in a Lehigh-Northampton League clash, 4-3.

Dave Tortzo, for the second day in a row, was the pitching hero for the winners, hurling the distance and yielding but three scattered singles. He also was the only player on either side to get two hits.

All the scoring in the game came in the third inning when the Knights put back-to-back doubles by Dale Capone and Ray Nottle for the first run. Nottle scored on Dave Black's single.

Gordon Burns, Wilson's hurler, also went the distance in a losing cause, striking out 12 batters and yielding but six hits. He did not walk anyone. Tortzo fanned two and walked three.

The two-baggers by Capone and Nottle were the only extra-base hits of the game.

The victory gave the Knights a 4-3 league record and 4-5 overall.

Cards Trim Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Curt Simmons, who has made a career of beating the Philadelphia Phillies since they released him four years ago, did it again 4-2 Tuesday night although he needed some late inning relief help from his St. Louis Cardinal teammates.

Since being dropped by the Phils in May 1960, Simmons has beaten them 13 of 15 decisions, including this one. Roger Craig came on in a one-out, two-on situation in the eighth to bail out the 35-year-old southpaw.

Craig gave up a double to Gus Triandos scoring one run, but retired the next two batters to ease out of the jam.

St. Louis in winning its third straight bombed loser Art Mahaffey early, scoring a run in the second on three walks and Julian Javier's single, and two in the third on Doug Clemens' triple, a double by Dick Groat and Ken Boyer's single. Clemens doubled home another run in the fourth.

Simmons blanked the Phillies until the sixth, when a walk and two singles produced a run. In the eighth after retiring Roy Sievers, Tony Gonzalez and Danny Cater both singled bringing on Craig.

Tigers Snap Yank Streak At 5 Games

DETROIT (AP) — Left-hander Mickey Lolich threw a three-hitter and snapped New York's five-game winning streak as the Detroit Tigers downed the Yankees 7-2 Tuesday night.

One of the hits off Lolich was a two-run home run by Hector Lopez in the first inning. Lopez also singled in the ninth.

The Tigers, who had lost five in a row, made the most of eight hits and capitalized on five early-inning walks. Four of the runners who reached first on walks scored.

Downing, Meyer (1), Daley (5), Teniff (8) and Howard; Lolich and Freeman, W.—Lolich, 3-1, L—Meyer, 0-3.

Home run—New York, Lopez (4).

Braves Blank Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Fischer pitched a three-hitter and rookie Rico Carter slugged his first major league homer as the Milwaukee Braves blanked the New York Mets 2-0 Tuesday night.

Fischer allowed only a double by Frank Thomas in the fifth inning and a single by Larry Elliot in the eighth and a pinch single by Jesse Gordon in the ninth. He faced 29 batters, just two over the minimum. He struck out two and walked none.

Carly connected in the fifth inning after Frank Bolling had reached on an error. Until then Fischer and the Mets' Al Jackson had matched serves with the Braves' starter, retiring the first 12 batters he faced.

It was lunch time at Glen Brook Country Club during the seventh annual State Colleges golf championship Monday. Some of the conversations were amusing. For instance:

One of the coaches comes in (they were playing, too, that day) and he was asked by another coach if he had ever been there before.

"No, this is my first trip," he replied. "But believe me, I know this course better than the golf pro here. I've seen more of this course than he has. I've seen every nook and cranny of it. I've seen all the sand traps and all the woods."

"Well," asked his questioner, "how did you find the fairways?"

"That's one place, I guess," answered the coach and would-be golfer, "that the golf pro knows better than me. I couldn't find THEM at all!"

Another coach came in and asked the bartender: "What's the HIGH score for this course? I think I just cracked it."

Before the bartender could answer, another coach quickly replied: "What was your score? Over 50?"

"I guess it was. Came out 55."

"Too bad," said the other. "I've got you beat, but I'm too ashamed to tell you by how much."

The bartender finished the conversation by being a diplomat. Smilingly, he told the group: "I hold the course record. For high score, of course."

The players started to pour in for noon-time hamburgers and soda pop.

Said one: "I got off to a real fine start—parred the first four holes. It was my best start of the season. Then I bogeyed the next four and double-bogeyed the next two. And after that, I got worse yet."

His coach murmured back: "Play me on the next nine and I'll give YOU my Records."

One of the college players had heard that John McNaney of Mansfield had shot a hole-in-one on the eighth. When the tourney was finished, the collegian walked up to John and said, "Look at MY score on that hole."

John looked. His expression showed shock and amusement almost at the same time.

"That's impossible," exclaimed John. "An 18: Impossible!" The lad smiled back. "Maybe it's impossible, but I did it!"

A bystander—and another competitor of the day—replied: "See, John, you're 17 times better than he is."

Interrupted another: "What do you mean, 17 times better? It's 18 times better. What school do you come from?"

There was no answer. He took the Fifth on that one.

Before you get the wrong impression about the coaches and their playing ability, let me cite the instance of Win Evans, Kutztown's congenial athletic director, who proved his astute shrewdness of the links: He didn't play. Mort Hochheiser of East Stroudsburg State College must agree Evans is the smartest golf coach in the conference. Mort played, but his score was not made public. It was considerably higher than his lunch tab—including the tip.

Platooning Platoons Is Easy For Berra

DETROIT (AP)—It is easy to see that Yogi Berra did his home work at the knee of Casey Stengel, the old master of the platoon. In Yogi's system, you even platooned the platoons.

There is no such thing as an infielder on an outfielder on the New York Yankees' roster any more—just a clubhouse full of interchangeable parts.

The roster says there are five outfielders on the club. So far, Yogi has used nine different men in the outfield. Joe Pepitone is supposed to be the only first baseman. Three have played the bag so far.

Of course, Berra doesn't platoon just for the fun of it or to prove his cerebral capacity. As long as they are healthy, Mickey Mantle stays in center, Roger Maris in right, Tom Tresh in left, Tony Kubek at short and Pepitone at first.

Health Problem

The trouble is—they haven't been healthy. Only Bobby Richardson at second base and Cleto Boyer at third have played every day.

"These guys are really something," said Berra before Tuesday night's game with Detroit.

"I'm lucky I've got them with all the injuries we've had."

"I thought last year's team was the most versatile I ever saw but this one is even more so. Maybe it's because it is more important to me now because I am the manager."

"Everybody can play two positions. I made an outfielder out of Pedro Gonzalez so he'd be worth more to me. And he plays first base pretty good, too."

Mounting Injuries

Mantle just got back to work after pulling a leg muscle. Tresh jammed a finger on his left hand in Sunday's double-header with Cleveland and Kubek has a painfully sore muscle in his left side. Maris has a lump on his head from colliding with a wall in Cleveland.

The Yanks' regular line-up has started only once all season. It lasted less than three innings before injuries struck Sunday. Last year the regulars started only nine times, including one game after the pennant was clinched. Yet the Yanks breezed home by 10½ games.

Big Names For Big 33

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two more big names in the world of football have joined the Texas coaching staff for the 1964 Big 33 high school all-star game Aug. 1 at nearby Hershey.

Donk Walker, former back field star at Southern Methodist and Harley Sewell, second team all-America guard at the University of Texas, were named assistant coaches Saturday.

The battle matches the Lone Star State against the best of Pennsylvania's high school crop. Walker, who won the Heisman Trophy as college football's outstanding player in 1948, and Sewell join another Texas great, Bobby Layne, ex-National Football League star, selected head coach several weeks ago.

Gov. Sarantian has challenged Texas Gov. John Connally to a friendly wager on the game, putting up two lumps of coal and a miner's helmet as Pennsylvania's bet.

Homer-Happy Mays Eyes .400

By LEW FERGUSON

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Twins of 1964 may be the most home run-happy team in the history of baseball.

At their current pace the Twins would hit 296 this season to shatter easily the major league record of 240 set by the 1961 New York Yankees.

Minnesota has belted 42 out of the park in 23 games, and every regular except shortstop Zoilo Versalles has hit at least three.

Killer In Slump

An amazing part of the early sport is that American League home run king Harmon Killebrew is suffering through probably the worst slump of his career.

He has hit four homers but is batting only .167 and has been benched the past two games.

Jimmie Hall, who last year broke Ted Williams' record for homers by an American League rookie with 33, is setting the pace for the Twins this spring. He's already got eight.

Close behind are sensational rookie Tony Oliva—the league's top batter at .441—and Bob Allison with seven each.

Four more twins have hit four apiece—Rich Rollins, Don Mincher, Earl Battey and Killebrew. Bernie Allen has three.

Oliva, Hall, Allison and Killebrew tied a major league record by hitting consecutive homers against Kansas City.

Oliva has driven in 20 runs, Hall 19, Allison 18, Rollins 16 and Battey 15.

Ironically, much of that power has been wasted—just like 1963 when the Twins led both leagues with 225 homers only to finish third in the AL—because of a woeful start by the Minnesota pitching staff.

The Twins have scored 132 runs for an average of 5.7 per game. The opposition has tallied 118 for 5.1 a game and has whacked Twins' hurlers for 35 homers. And defense—which was supposed to be the Twins' weak suit—cannot be blamed. Only five opposition runs have been unearned.

Steve Owen Still Critical

ONEIDA, N.Y. (AP) — Steve Owen, who coached the New York Giants to eight Eastern Division titles and two National Football League championships, remained in critical condition Tuesday in a hospital oxygen tent.

Owens, 66, was admitted to Oneida City Hospital Saturday. The nature of his illness was not disclosed. He has made his home here since he retired as Giants coach in 1953.

Pitcher Minus 4 Fingers

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Most high school baseball teams have a pitching ace and he's either a strong right-hander or an ace left-hander.

The 17-year-old junior, from this Central Pennsylvania town was born with only a small thumb on his left hand and four stubs where his fingers should be.

He's one of the top pitchers in the Tri-Valley Baseball League as the Panthers battle for Northern Division honors.

In his first four games Reinard pitched 23 1-3 innings, allowing just 15 hits and four earned runs for an ERA of 1.14.

No Defeats

He has struck out 26 and allowed only seven bases on balls. He has 2 wins with no defeats.

As a batter he changed from a right-handed batter this year to a left-hander and as a result hasn't had a hit in eight times at bat. He has struck out twice and has two runs batted in with sacrifices.

When Barry winds up, he balances the right-handed glove on his small thumb and as soon as he lets go of the pitch he switches the glove to his right hand.

Harold Wanzel, his coach in Little League, is perhaps one of the big factors in his fast switch.

"When Barry started pitching as soon as he let go of the ball, I had another ready to fire right back at him and I never could do it fast enough to catch him without a glove," Wanzel explained.

Misses Perfect Game

Barry started pitching in 1957 after several years as an outfielder. Two years later he narrowly missed a perfect game.

After retiring 17 straight batters, his teammates committed four errors and he lost the game 2-1. Still it was a no-hitter.

In the championship game of that year he fired a one-hitter and collected two hits to pace his team to a 28-1 victory.

When at bat, Barry holds the end of the bat tightly with his right hand and again uses the end of his left arm as a balance.

He hit only two home runs in his life — one in Little League, the other in Sunday School League for boys from 13 to 16 years of age. One of the hits went 250 feet—not bad for a boy with one hand.

Fielding hints is no problem for the youngster either. He fields the ball with his glove and in the same motion throws the ball to the side and lets go with his peg.

In his two years in the Little League his over-all record as a hurler was 18-4 including his no-hitter and the one-hit championship game.

Barry says he has three pitches. One is what he calls a straight ball, not fast, but his opposition will defer with him. He also boasts a curve and a drop.

Reinard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reinard of Lewistown and says, "I would like to be a state policeman after high school but I doubt if I can because of this hand. I hope I can but if not I'll have to try something else."

"100 Per Cent"

Plainfield Pastor Feted

PEN ARGYL — The pastor of the Plainfield Charge, United Church of Christ, was a guest at a farewell dinner recently at St. Peter's Union Church, Plainfield Township.

The Rev. Richard Druckenbrod, pastor for nearly seven years, will resign from the post effective Friday. In addition to his wife and son who attended the supper, many members and friends of each of the three churches of the charge attended.

Churches in the charge in addition to the St. Peter's Church are Faith Church of Pen Argyl and Trinity Church of Wind Gap. The supper opened with the invocation by the Rev. Mr. Druckenbrod.

The special program after the supper was in charge of Russell Roper, vice president of the Trinity Church consistory. Group singing was led by Robert J. Ealey of St. Peter's. Mrs. Robert Lewis of Trinity church was the pianist.

Talks were given by Jacob S. Dietrich of Faith Church, president of the charge joint consistory; Russell A. Marsh, president of the Faith consistory; Harold Teel, president of the St. Peter's consistory; and Russell Roper of Trinity Church. A brief talk was given by Rev. John C. E. Robinson, pastor of the Lutheran congregation of the St. Peter's Church.

Members of the charge confirmation class of last Sunday were introduced and each received a class picture from the Rev. Mr. Druckenbrod.

Mrs. Edwin Schmickley, president of the Women's Fellowship of the Trinity Church, on behalf of the charge presented a silver tea service to Mrs. Druckenbrod.

Mrs. Arthur Walters, president of the Women's Fellowship of St. Peter's Church, on behalf of the charge presented a wrist watch to Randy Druckenbrod.

New Area Development Keyed Around 1,574 Homesites

By Jeff Cox
Daily Record Reporter...
STROUDSBURG — Pocono Farms, Inc. has announced the purchase of 937 acres north of Mt. Pocono to be used as a sports and vacation community site.

According to William V. Nixon, the sprawling acreage — which includes the 30-acre Echo Lake — will be used in the following ways:

Starting this summer, a planned vacation and year-round community of 1,574 homesites will be laid out. The focal point of the development will be Echo Lake and 30 acres lakefront property.

Forty acres has been set aside for two shopping centers. Also, an arena for horse breeding and boarding will be begun. The arena will measure 200 by 140 feet, and will be located on 85 acres in the northeast section of the development.

In addition to the arena, stables, outdoor corals, parking lot, training track and riding trails will be developed.

The arena will also provide other facilities, according to Nixon. By installing a temporary floor, it may be used for concerts, conventions, industrial exhibits, car shows, stage shows, religious or political meetings, and will have 1,600 permanent seats and space for 4,500 on the main floor.

"Location ideal," Dr. John McGregor, speaking for the administration of the corporation, said, "The location is ideal, not only to the resorts of the area, but to the urban centers of Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Hazleton, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton.

"It is less than one hour from the Lehigh Valley and one-half hour from Scranton, Hazleton, and Wilkes-Barre. Thus, any major attraction can draw from 1,000,000 people within 50 miles."

Dr. McGregor is one of the principal figures in the organization of Pocono Farms. He is chairman of the board of Narda Microwave Corp., Plainville, N.Y.; Dynasonics Corp., Minneapolis, Minn.; Don-Lon Corp., Glen Head, N.Y.

In addition, he is an officer and director of other corporations in New Jersey, New York, and Florida. He is a partner in his Long Island law firm.

Edward L. Roet is another principal in Pocono Farms. He is president of Colony Estates, Inc., and Lake Estates of Inverness, Fla., two companies developing 900 acres in central Florida.

Both developments are planned, covering community parks, water front development, and appropriate business and shopping areas. Before his Florida experience, he headed a development of property on the north shore of Long Island.

Albert L. Daniels is grounded in the livestock business, and is another principal in Pocono Farms. He has been employed by the King Ranch of Kingsville, Texas; Pinchurst Ranch of Orange, Texas; two other Texas ranches and two New York State ranches.

He has been a member of Rodeo Cowboys Assn. for eight years. He was livestock supervisor for Freedomland in the Bronx its opening year and was foreman at Twin Pine Dude Ranch for the 1962 and 1963 seasons.
